MEMORIES OF LINCOLN THE MARTYR PRESIDENT

Gettysburg Woman's Relief corps of Tonopah has issued the following circular reminding all loyal citizens of the holiday tomorrow.

"With notice toward home, with charity for all—Lincoln."

Abraham Lincoln, sixteenth president of the United States, 1809 to 1865, was born at Nolin Creek, Hardin county, Kentucky. In 1816 his father moved to Indiana. For ten years Lincoln worked on his father's farm and his whole time at school did not exceed one year. However, he was a voracious reader and most of his education was obtained in this way. In 1831 he helped to build a flatboat on the Mississippi on which he worked his way to New Orleans. On his return he became a clerk in a New Salem store and two years later he was made captain of volunteers. From 1834 to 1840 he was a member of the Illinois legislature where he was an acknowledged leader. In the mean time he studied law and began his practice in Springfield, Ill. in 1846. He was elected president of the United States in 1860 and the following year the civil war broke out. On September 22, 1862, he issued the memorable emancipation proclamation, declaring the abolition of slavery. He was re-elected to the presidency in 1864 and was assassinated the following year on the 14th of April.

The writer well remembers the sadness which swept over our nation at the time of Lincoln's death. Just as we were from a terrible war, this tragedy seemed even greater than it would at a more normal time. In my home town every building was draped in grief and all flags flew at half mast. Many of those who so gallantly fought in the war had not yet returned home and there were few homes where there was not a vacant chair meant never to be filled by the absent one. People thronged the streets and many eyes were dimmed with tears, for our president was loved by all loyal people. Through all those years his memory has been cherished by old and young alike.

Let us all here in Tonopah show our love and reverence for this great man by doing our nation's bidding on all public buildings and those who have flags in private homes should hoist them to the breeze on Thursday, February 12, a day there will be no suspension of operations, while and hold a copy a few lines from a letter, being installed.

of a G. A. R. comrade who was a guard in the state house at Columbus, Ohio, while Lincoln's remains lay in state there. This comrade was stationed at guard. When Lincoln's body arrived there at 6 o'clock in the morning, from the city house, upon the horse in which the body was conveyed from the depot. There were twelve pallbearers, all picked men, with blank hats and mustaches, and all wore blue uniforms with white trimmings. Each man was six feet tall and finely built. This comrade states that he had never seen finer looking men in his life. Arriving at the state house, the pallbearers took the casket on their shoulders and marched with it up to the state house where they deposited it in a room in a New Salem store and removed to allow a rush of the martyr's fate and it is said that Lincoln looked as if asleep. From the casket was stationed at the right of the casket, not six feet away, to keep the crowd moving and to see that the casket was not touched. Good friends came to take a last look at their beloved president and marched four abreast to the casket where they divided two to the right and two to the left. Comrade Leonard was then seventeen years old and is now in his seventy-fourth year.

No president has ever been mourned so long and so profoundly as Lincoln was and probably none ever will be. School children should know more of this great man, ourselves should be held in all schools and our national emblem should fly in all school buildings not only on Lincoln's birthday day but on every day school is in session.
